Cultural and Social Adaptation

Being an international school, we have various practices in place to make every student feel at home here at Moorland.

We understand that it may take some time to acclimatise and so we ensure a 'buddy' system is in place to help new students find their feet. We pair our international students with an established student who will act as a friend and guide for their introductory weeks, guaranteeing that they have someone to turn to for assistance at all times.

Our Pastoral Manager, Houseparents and staff are all briefed on specifics for each individual international student and are on hand to help with matters of homesickness, settling and transition; our small, familial setting allows a bespoke service of care and attention for all our students.

As a whole school, we understand, embrace and celebrate important dates from other cultures and religions inclusive of fasting, prayer and dietary requirements. It is key to our ethos to make every student feel as close to home as possible. Students are actively encouraged to engage in contact with home on a regular basis and parents/carers have direct access to our team at all times.

No student at Moorland will ever feel alone or unheard, there is always someone on hand to listen, advise and care.

English as a Second Language and Learning Support

Upon arrival at Moorland, students are fully evaluated to assess their individual educational needs or gaps in their learning. We are able to identify gaps that may exist due to cultural differences and ensure our learning programme is tailored to allow the student to succeed within the UK curriculum.

In addition to their studies, we have a personalised programme of support and assistance for those who are learning English as a new language and require additional learning support.

If required, we can deliver bespoke timetables to students, with additional English lessons in their daily routines.

Our full time SENDCo ensures that all students are understood on a personal level. We understand that with a language barrier it can be difficult for students to socialise and adapt, however with our experienced approach our staff quickly and easily help new students integrate with their peers.
